

Retractable Screens

As carefully constructed as the sill it sits in, Loewen Retractable Screens complement our Douglas Fir and Mahogany windows perfectly and operate effortlessly. The solid wood design blends seamlessly as an integral part of the window and an integrated braking system allows for one-touch retraction. All this has been executed with minimal obstruction to the viewing area. Disguised so well within our sill, you'll wonder if it's even there.

Superior Construction

- Warmth of Douglas Fir and Mahogany fully conceal the screen hardware, allowing the screen to blend seamlessly within the window frame
- Consistent pull down operation on both Casement and Awning windows
- Balanced aesthetics with continuity across product lines
- One-touch retraction of the screen is simple and smooth, transitioning from insect protection to clear views in seconds with the advantage of built-in winter storage
- High visibility screen mesh with flexible screen guides provides visual clarity

Availability & Details

- Available on both Traditional and Push-Out Awning products, including Mission options
- Available on both Traditional and Push-Out Casement products, including French and Mission options
- Fits within unit jamb depths as low as 4 9/16"
- Available on both double and triple glazed units
- Available in Douglas Fir and Mahogany with primed options
- Pull Cord option for easy operation on taller units
- Possible sizes range from 350mm-2100mm (h) and 400mm-1800mm (w)

*some restrictions apply to taller units

